Application for a new active constituent – Palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate

The APVMA has before it an application for the approval of a new active constituent, palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate.

Palmitoylethanolamide (PEA) manufacturing concentrate (brand name Levagen+) contains high purity palmitoylethanolamide at a minimum content of 90% w/w palmitoylethanolamide together with inert ingredients making up the balance. Levagen+ is intended for incorporation into veterinary chemical products for oral administration to companion animals.

Table 10: Particulars of the active constituent, palmitoylethanolamide

Common name	Palmitoylethanolamide
IUPAC name	N-(2-Hydroxyethyl)hexadecanamide
CAS registry number	544-31-0
Manufacturer's codes/names	PML, Levagen+
Minimum purity	90% w/w (in the manufacturing concentrate)
Molecular formula	C ₁₈ H ₃₇ NO ₂
Molecular weight	299.49 g/mol ⁻¹
Structure
Chemical family	Fatty acid derived amide
Mode of action	Upon administration, palmitoylethanolamide may inhibit the release of pro-inflammatory mediators from activated mast cells. This may reduce inflammation and pain. Palmitoylethanolamide potentially has a role as an anti-inflammatory drug, analgesic, an antihypertensive agent, a neuroprotective agent and an anticonvulsant.

Summary of the APVMA's evaluation of palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate active constituent

The APVMA has evaluated the chemistry aspects of palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate (identification, stability, physicochemical properties, manufacturing process, quality control procedures, batch analysis results and analytical methods) and found them to be acceptable.

On the basis of the data provided and the chemistry and toxicological assessments, an Active Constituent Standard for palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate is not proposed to be established as it will be used in the manufacture of veterinary products only.

Impurities and other compounds of toxicological significance are not expected to occur in palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate. Neither an acceptable daily intake (ADI) nor an acute reference dose (ARfD) have been established for palmitoylethanolamide, as it is intended for use in companion animals and no uses in food producing animals are currently proposed.

The Scheduling Delegate has included palmitoylethanolamide in Schedule 6 of the Poison Standard, except when used in preparations for therapeutic use or when used in preparations for dermal cosmetic used containing 1% or less of palmitoylethanolamide.

There are no objections on human health grounds to the approval of palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate.

The APVMA accepts the findings and recommendations of its advisers on these criteria.

Making a submission

In accordance with section 12 of the Agvet Code, the APVMA invites any person to submit a relevant written submission as to whether palmitoylethanolamide manufacturing concentrate should be approved. Submissions should relate only to matters that are considered in determining whether the safety criteria set out in section 5A of the Agvet Code have been met. Submissions should state the grounds on which they are based.

Submissions must be received by the APVMA within 28 days of the date of this notice and be directed to the contact listed below. All submissions to the APVMA will be acknowledged in writing via email or by post.

Please note: Submissions will be published on the APVMA's website, unless you have asked for the submission to remain confidential (see public submission coversheet).

Amendments to the APVMA MRL Standard

The Australian Pesticides and Veterinary Medicines Authority (APVMA) approves maximum residue limits (MRLs) of agricultural and veterinary chemicals in agricultural produce, particularly produce entering the food chain. The MRLs approved by the APVMA are associated with a regulatory decision to register a product, grant a permit approval, or as an outcome from a review decision and are set out in the Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals (MRL Standard for Residues of Chemical Products) Instrument 2023. The MRL Standard lists MRLs of substances that may arise from the approved use of agricultural and veterinary chemical products containing those substances on commodities used for human consumption as well as livestock feeds. The MRL Standard also provides the relevant residue definitions to which these MRLs apply. There may be situations where the residue definition for monitoring and enforcement is different to the definition used for dietary risk assessment purposes.

MRLs are set at levels which are not likely to be exceeded if the agricultural or veterinary chemicals are used in accordance with approved label instructions. In considering MRLs and variation to MRLs, the APVMA takes into account studies on chemistry, metabolism, analytical methodology, residues, toxicology, good agricultural practice and dietary exposure. In approving MRLs, the APVMA is satisfied, from dietary exposure assessment, that the levels set are not an undue hazard to human health.

The APVMA has amended the MRL Standard and the changes will have affect the day after the instrument is registered.

Details of the amendment can be found in the Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals (MRL Standard for Residues of Chemical Products) Amendment Instrument (No. 5) 2024.

The amendments will be incorporated into the compilation of the Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals (MRL Standard for Residues of Chemical Products) Instrument 2023.

The MRL Standard is accessible via the Federal Register of Legislation website.

Proposal to amend Schedule 20 in the Australian New Zealand Food Standards Code

In the previous notice on page 22 of APVMA Gazette No. 23, the APVMA gazetted amendments which it has approved to vary maximum residue limits (MRLs) for substances contained in agricultural and veterinary chemical products as set out in the APVMA's MRL Standard.

Under section 82 of the Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991, the APVMA is proposing to incorporate those variations (Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals Code (MRL Standard) Amendment Instrument 2024 (No. 5)) to MRLs into Schedule 20 – Maximum residue limits in the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code.

MRLs contained in Schedule 20 provide the limits for residues of agricultural and veterinary chemicals that may legitimately occur in foods. By this means Schedule 20 permits the sale of treated foods and protects public health and safety by minimising residues in foods consistent with the effective control of pests and diseases.

The APVMA and Food Standards Australia New Zealand (FSANZ) are satisfied, based on dietary exposure assessments and current health standards, that the proposed limits are not harmful to public health.

The agreement between the Australian Government and the New Zealand Government concerning a Joint Food Standards System excludes MRLs for agricultural and veterinary chemicals in food from the system setting joint food standards. Australia and New Zealand independently and separately develop MRLs for agricultural and veterinary chemicals in food.

A Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) notification to the World Trade Organization (WTO) will be made.

The APVMA invites comment on these proposals. Details on how to make a submission appear near the end of this notice, below the details of the proposed amendment.

The APVMA will consider any public comments made in response to this proposal. If the APVMA decides to proceed with the proposal, it will further notify any variations it makes to Schedule 20 in the APVMA Gazette. The variations will take effect as from the date of that subsequent notice.

Proposed variation to Schedule 20 in the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code

10 December 2024

Note: Subsection 82(2) of the Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991 provides that variations to standards are legislative instruments, but are not subject to disallowance or sunseting.

To commence: on gazettal of variation

Invitation for submissions

Written submissions are invited from interested individuals and organisations to assist the APVMA in considering the proposal to vary Schedule 20 – Maximum residue limits in the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code.

Submissions should be strictly confined to relevant matters that the APVMA must consider (such as public health and safety) which are associated with the occurrence of the proposed residues in foods. Comments received outside these grounds will not be considered by the APVMA.

Claims made in submissions should be supported wherever possible by referencing or including relevant studies, research findings, trials and surveys. Technical information should be in sufficient detail to allow independent scientific assessment.

Submissions must be made in writing and should be clearly marked as a 'submission on the proposed amendment to Schedule 20' and quote the correct amendment number.

Deadline for public submissions

Submissions must be received by 10 January 2025 (28 days from date Gazette published). Submissions received after this deadline will only be considered by prior arrangement or if agreement for an extension has been given prior to this closing date. Agreement to an extension of time will only be given if extraordinary circumstances warrant an extension to the submission period.

Please note: submissions will be published on the APVMA's website, unless you have asked for the submission to remain confidential, or if the APVMA chooses at its discretion not to publish any submissions received (refer to the public consultation coversheet).

Please lodge your submission using the public consultation coversheet, which provides options for how your submission will be published.

Note that all APVMA documents are subject to the access provisions of the Freedom of Information Act 1982 and may be required to be released under that Act should a request for access be made.

Variations to Schedule 20 of the Australian New Zealand Food Standards Code

The APVMA has previously gazetted particular amendments which it had made to the APVMA MRL Standard and which have been proposed as variations to maximum residue limits (MRLs) for substances contained in agricultural and veterinary chemical products as set out as in Schedule 20 – Maximum residue limits of the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code. This notice pertains to proposal (No. 3) gazetted on 17 September 2024 (No. APVMA 19).

Submissions have been sought on these proposals and the APVMA has written separately to each person or organisation that made a submission. All matters raised in the submissions have been resolved.

Under subsection 82(1) of the Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991, the APVMA has, by legislative instrument, incorporated these variations to MRLs into Schedule 20. A copy of the Amendment Instrument (No. APVMA 3, 2024) accompanies this notice. For a complete and up-to-date version of Schedule 20, including these amendments together with their Explanatory Statement, please refer to the Federal Register of Legislation.

Based on dietary exposure assessments and current health standards, the APVMA and Food Standards Australia New Zealand (FSANZ) are satisfied that these MRLs are not harmful to public health. MRLs contained in Schedule 20 provide the limits for residues of agricultural and veterinary chemicals that may legitimately occur in foods. By this means, Schedule 20 permits the sale of treated foods and protects public health by minimising residues in foods consistent with the effective control of pests and diseases.

The agreement between the Australian Government and the New Zealand Government concerning a Joint Food Standards System, excludes MRLs for agricultural and veterinary chemicals in food from the system setting joint food standards. Australia and New Zealand independently and separately develop MRLs for agricultural and veterinary chemicals in food.

A Sanitary and Phytosanitary notification to the World Trade Organization (WTO) was also made in relation to the variations to MRLs in Schedule 20 and no comment was received in response to that notice OR comment was received in response to that notice which has been addressed.

A copy of these variations have been given to FSANZ.

The variations take effect as from the date of this notice.

This notice is published in accordance with subsection 82(7) of the Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991.

Agvet chemical voluntary recall: ilium Methadone Injection

Product name: ilium Methadone Injection

APVMA registration number: 63712

APVMA approved label number: 56141

Batch number: 230901

Sold by: Veterinary wholesalers in all States and Territories between 9 November 2023 to 26 November 2024.

On 26 November 2024, Troy Laboratories Pty Ltd (ABN: 000 283 769) initiated a voluntary recall under section 106 of the Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals Code scheduled to the Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals Code Act 1994 (Cth) in relation to the chemical product described above.

Reason for voluntary recall

Some units of batch 230901 may not have a label on the bottle, although it is enclosed in a carton with all relevant product information.

Hazard

Unlabelled vials could potentially result in product being used for unintended purposes. However, vials without labels are easy to identify immediately and due to the strict regulations surrounding use and record keeping of schedule 8 drugs, the risk of unlabelled Methadone being used is very low. If the vial is labelled, there is no risk, and the product does not need to be returned.

What to do if in possession of this chemical product

Veterinary wholesalers and end users should check all stock on hand of batch 230901 for affected units (i.e. unlabelled vials). If any unlabelled vials are found, please isolate the product and place in quarantine. Troy (contact details included below) will provide advice on management of affected units and arrangements for replacement.
